

South Africa Culture

Museums

South Africa is rich in its cultural heritage, and its museums are best evidence of such richness. The museums house a variety of cultural objects, including masterpieces, manuscripts and artifacts as shown in the following photos:

South Africa's traditional food :

African food is colorful, interesting and alien to most visitors. It also tastes terrific. A well-prepared local meal can be a highlight of your trip to South Africa. Many restaurants specialist in the cuisine of the continent and serve a good variety of traditional African dishes.

South Africans wear traditional Clothing that represents their specific tribe or the nation of their ancestors. For instance, the women of the Ndebele tribe drape themselves in bright coloured blankets, adorn their necks with multiple brass rings and wrap their head in head cloths.

architecture :-

South African Architecture is wondrous mix of styles. The rural landscape is populated with traditional African architecture and aging monuments to colonialism, while the cities are filled with ostentatious skyscrapers echoing the glory of days gone by and modern buildings reflecting the move to a more green way of living.

folk dance :-

South Africa has different kinds of folk dance that varies based on ethnic groups, tribes, customs and traditions as demonstrated in the following photos:
